The Cinema Staff of Lakewood High School

presents to.....

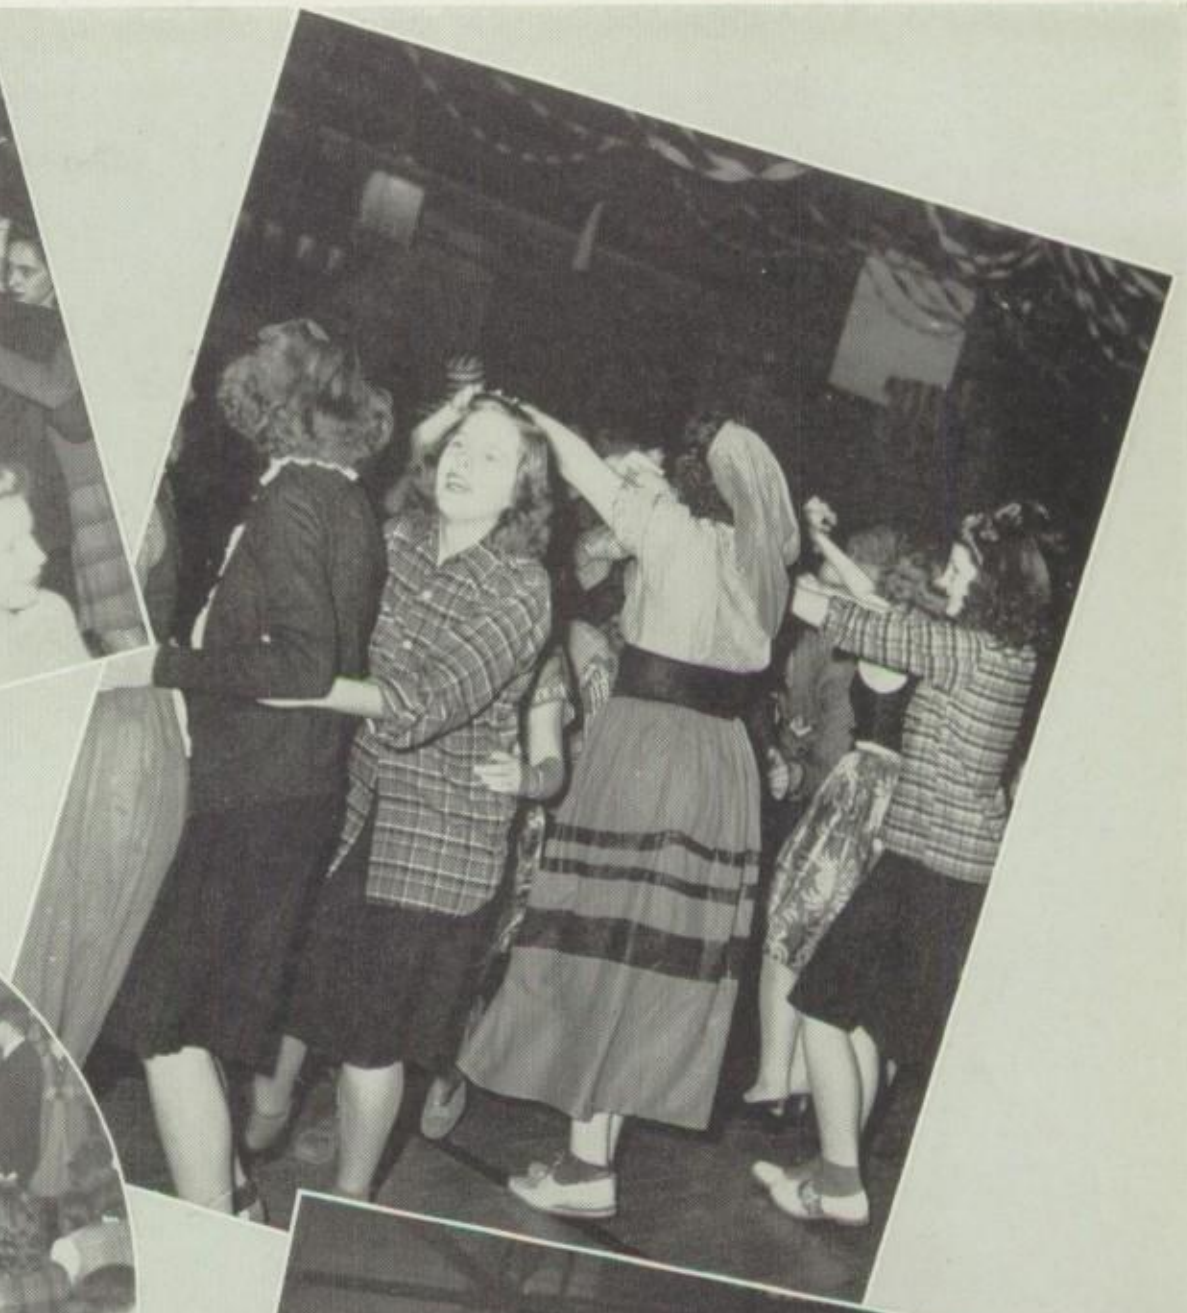
. . . a record of a year's activities at Lakewood High School. In harmony with the administration's progressive policy, the year 1941-42 was one of many new institutions and practices throughout the school. The Cinema has assembled a pictorial review in which these new activities are introduced to the old and in which the old are presented in a new way.

Students pledge allegiance . . . Waiting for assembly to begin

Introducing: A Social Program

The highlights of the new social activities program, sponsored by Mr. Rehmus, were the eight all-school parties, commencing with the "Campus Frolic" in September. Over twelve hundred students and teachers were present. Dancing on the green was the main attraction. Mr. Cockayne and 25 boys set up the dance floor on the old football field and put a huge tent over it. The second event, the "Witches Brawl," was an indoor affair in which barn dancing was alternated with jitterbugging.

Anne Read



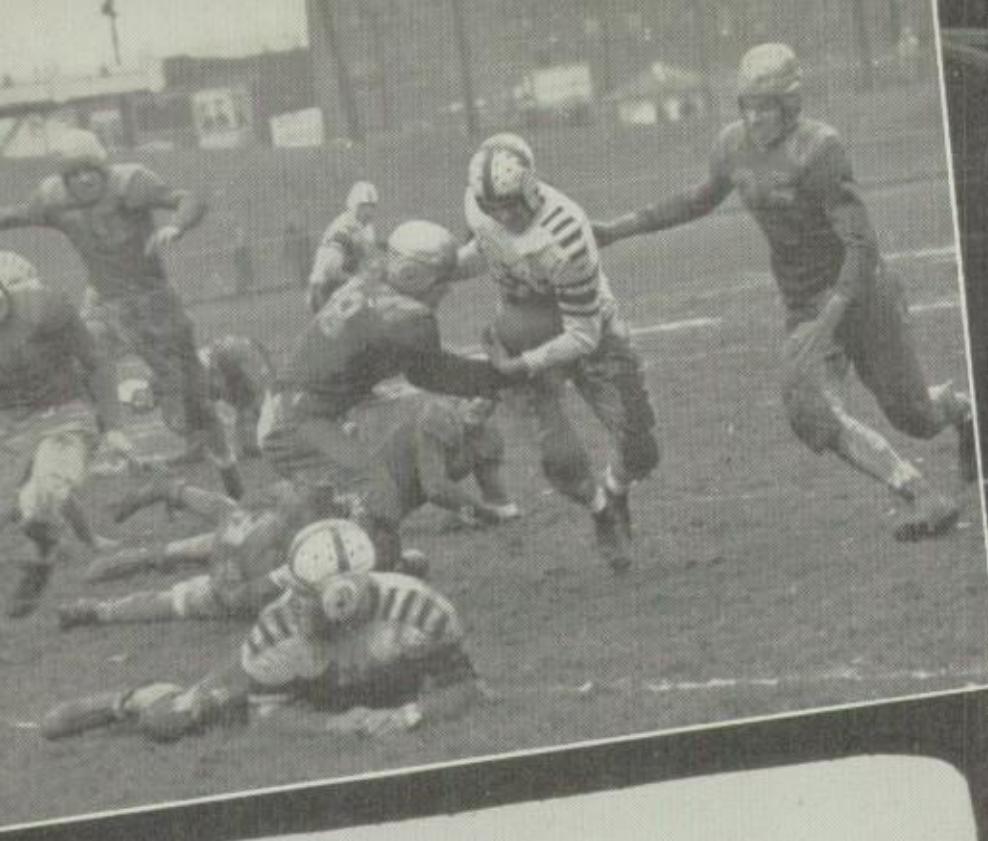
Social Activities

●The remaining parties were dances held in the school gyms.

A social chairman from each home room was sent to a general meeting from which committees for each program were elected. The students, with the aid of faculty advisers, carried out the social program.

The purpose of the program is to build up stronger school spirit by having parties that appeal to every pupil.

Pictures taken at the various parties appear on pages 6, 7, 8, and 9.



Bill Burton

Introducing: A New Stadium and Cabin

●What was represented only as a dream two to three years ago is now one of Greater Cleveland's most modern football stadiums. After two and a half years' work, the new field and bleachers were dedicated on the 18th of October, 1941. Speakers at the dedication were Dr. Vredevoe, Superintendent Rehmus, President Crawford of the Board of Education, and District Manager Miskell of the WPA. The new bleachers seat about forty-four hundred persons.

Still in the planning stage is a log cabin in which school clubs and classes may hold special programs or parties. To be made entirely through student efforts, the new club house will offer a place for healthful recreation and relaxation.

Introducing: The New Superintendent

● Paul A. Rehmus is truly a man "who needs no introduction," for during his one year as principal of Lakewood High school he became a friend and a confidant of the entire student body. With a firm conviction that high school pupils were capable of assuming responsibilities and duties as citizens of the school, he abolished the lunch pass and zero hour, allowed eating in the noon movies, and granted many other privileges respecting the rights of students as individuals.

Calling together the faculty and Student Council in 1941, he first proposed the new program of social activities which has been so successfully carried out. During his administration work on the new stadium was brought to completion.

His brief space of time as principal so clearly showed his abilities and interest in young people that he was the logical man to head the Lakewood school system. Although the high school misses him, we know that he has received a position worthy of his talents.

Presenting: The Board of Education

● In times as troubled and unsettled as these, a period when tomorrow seems hazy and humans grope uncertainly into the future, it might seem odd that individuals whose lives and businesses claim such a great deal of attention, could feel themselves able unselfishly to assume the duties which are those of the members of the Board of Education.

However, it is for the very reason that their lives and interests are engrossed in the community that these persons have come forward. They realize that the future life, not only of the community but of the nation, depends on the intelligent minds and active bodies being formed in our educational institutions. They realize that management of the school system is a patriotic duty and a vital link in our national defense. They realize that it is their responsibility to provide the means for our future citizens to obtain that store of practical, cultural, and spiritual knowledge which will illuminate the path of tomorrow.

Clockwise—Mr. T. F. McDonald; Mr. T. D. Auble, Vice President; Dr. R. B. Crawford; Mr. P. R. Rehmus, Superintendent. Mrs. V. G. Fullerton, President; Miss Ruth B. Nemic, Clerk-Treasurer; Mr. S. S. Dickey, Assistant Su perintendent; Mrs. Jean B. Dawson.

Introducing: The New Principal

● "Many of us are concerned about the war clouds gathering on the horizon, but I have faith in the future because I have faith in the young people of America . . . I see a group invincible, with a vision, intelligence, and leadership that can build, with youth of other lands, a better society of nations . . . The destiny of the future depends upon the ideals, faith, and citizenship youth develops now . . . Let us work together, so that Lakewood High School will be second to none in that scholarship and citizenship . . . May our representatives in all fields of competition play and acquit themselves like men of honor, displaying the highest type of sportsmanship which we hope will characterzie all our endeavors."

. . . chaperons at all-school party . . . at banquet.

Miss Kimball.

Mr. Meeks.

Presenting: The Administration

● Though Mr. Vredevoe is our commander-in-chief, it would be impossible to carry on the work of our school without his lieutenant generals, Miss Lucy Helen Kimball and Mr. Robert Meeks.

In addition to acting as dean of girls, Miss Kimball finds herself engaged as vice president of the Parent-Teacher Association and sponsor and adviser of Friendship Club, Activities Council, and the Student Council.

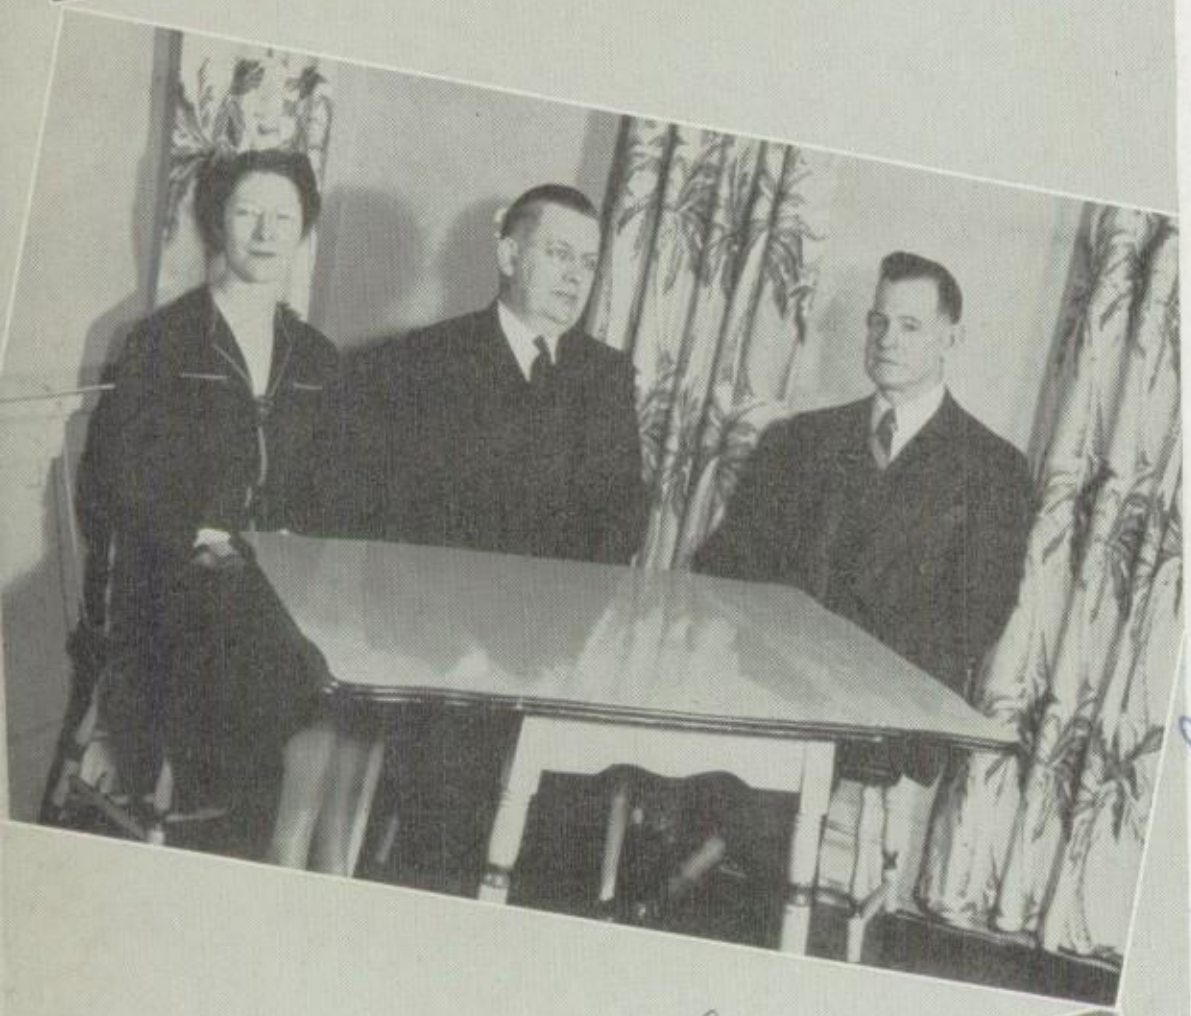
Mr. Meeks enjoys relaxing from his duties as assistant principal, disciplinarian, and program supervisor by engaging in church and peace work. Swimming, hiking, and tennis are also his hobbies.

Presenting: The Placement Office

● Behind the scenes at Lakewood there are individuals who, apart from their work as members of the faculty, spend a great part of their time helping to solve the problems of youth. These counselors advise on choices of high school subjects. They encourage and give information concerning scholarship applications. They are authorities on colleges and their entrance requirements. Through them many of our graduates have received recommendations to the finest educational institutions of our country.

Mrs. Grace Stewart operates the placement office, an organization which plays a great part in acquainting Lakewoodites with the world awaiting them upon graduation. Besides placing students and graduates in part-time jobs the office brings to the school speakers prominent in business and professions for conferences and questioning by interested students.

Mrs. Stewart hands out a card of introduction.



Presenting: Departments

ENGLISH

● Correct speech and writing are standards by which all persons are judged, and the English Department, Lakewood's largest, equips us with the knowledge of grammatical construction and correct langauge which will be invaluable to us when we are graduated.

Perhaps no other course of studies provides us with the culture and capacity for self-enjoyment as does this. An acquaintance with the masters of literature, poise gained on the public speaking stage, an ability to analyze the daily newspaper through a knowledge of its operation and techniques, these things among others help to lead us to a more profitable and enjoyable way of life.

Group 1—Miss Ewing, Miss Miner, Mr. Mullen, Miss Edmonson, Mr. Hanna, Miss G. Cook.
Group 2—Miss Kleinmeyer, Mr. Hutson, Mr. Mitchell.
Group 3—Miss Monroe, Mr. Slater, Mrs. Sutton, Mr. White, Miss McFadden, Mr. Shaw.

LATIN

● The classic language of the ancient Romans has always been part of the culture of the educated person. It forms an invaluable background for the study of related languages.

FRENCH

● For those who do "parlez vous Francais" is open a world of writings and literature untouched by English translation. An understanding of the French people is also gained.

SPANISH

● "Los alumnos" study and speak this language of old Spain not only for the cultural value contained in it, but for an understanding of South America and its way of life.

GERMAN

● German has experienced a sharp rise in importance as a modern tongue. No anti-Nazi sentiments can banish its usefulness to the scientist, the diplomat, and the research worker.

Latin—Miss Caldwell, Miss Foley, Miss Kimball.
French—Miss McMillin, Mr. Galanie, Miss Hiatt.
Spanish—Mr. Heskamp, Mr. Paine.
German—Mr. Esser.

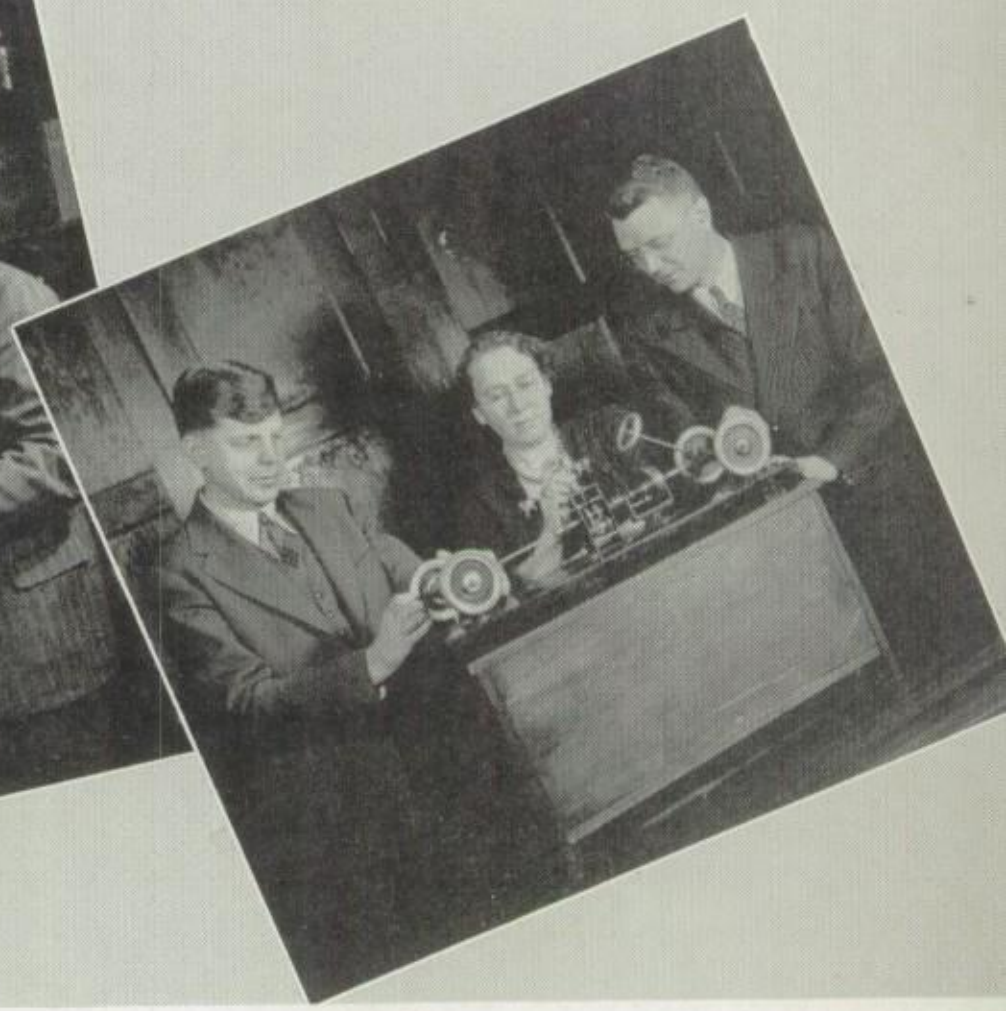
CHEMISTRY

● The chemist has invented and improved many products which have immeasurably bettered our way of life. Now the chemists of America are engaged in a struggle to preserve that way of life.

In the well-equipped laboratories of Lakewood High, students bend over boiling test tubes and foaming beakers, probing the secrets of the elements.

From these young persons will come the scientists of tomorrow who will lead the world in the devising not of implements to kill but of a pathway to an enlightened civilization.

Mr. Boruff, Mr. Kluckhohn, Mr. Bortner, Mr. Watters, Mr. Decker.



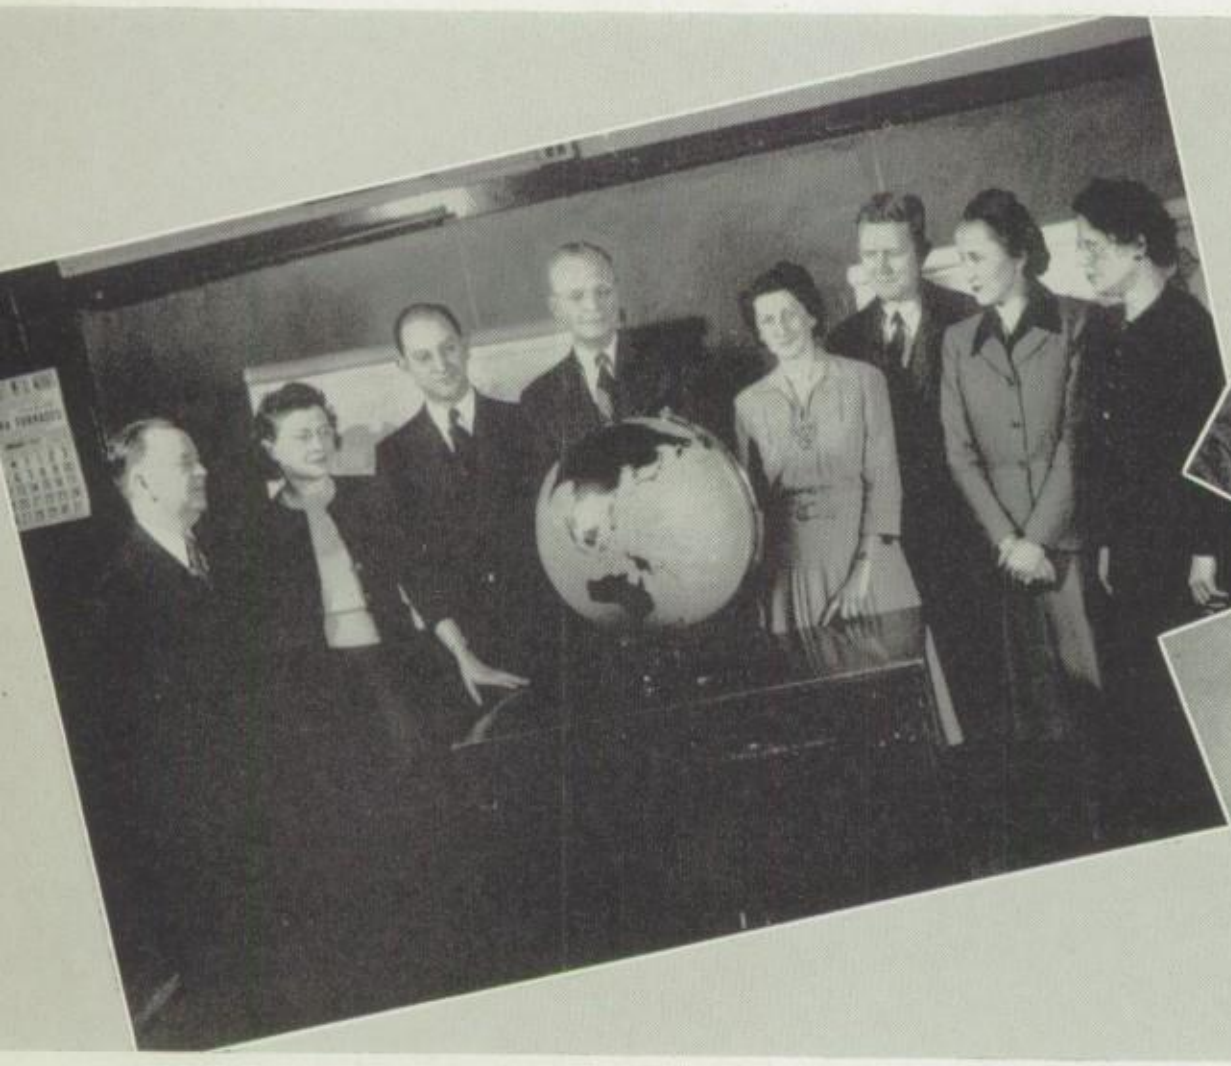
Mr. Gormsen, Mr. Hobbs, Mr. Webb.

PHYSICS

● Following the travels of a small cart down an inclined plane . . . watching the movements of a swinging pendulum . . . measuring the temperature of melting ice . . . upon laboratory experiments such as these our physicists of the future are cutting their teeth . . . uncovering facts and figures from the maze of Nature's mysteries which will continue to change our way of life, making it almost unrecognizable from that of a few centuries ago.

HISTORY

● "All that is now happening has happened before," says the philosopher and the historian. To understand the complexities of diplomatic and military action that are now playing the theater of the world it is necessary to have a knowledge of the action of the past. The History Department, in covering the story of the world's events from the beginning of time, shows the relationship of the past to the present, and forms a reliable groundwork for predictions as to the future.



History—Mr. Cantrell, Miss Moke, Mr. Hotz, Mr. Jessup, Miss Stewart, Mr. Ross, Miss Warner, Miss Emery.

Economics—Mr. Huffman.
Sociology—Miss Dawson.

ECONOMICS

● Economics is defined as the science that investigates the conditions and laws affecting the production, distribution, and consumption of wealth. As such it forms an interesting, informative study.

SOCIOLOGY

● When billions of people come together, certain problems are bound to result from their relationships. Sociology is an analysis of these problems and a study of means for their solution.

Seated—Miss Hobson, Miss Smith. Standing—Mr. Harger, Mr. Siggins, Mr. Bixler.

MATHEMATICS

● From the crude tracings of the ancient Egyptians to the complicated equations of today, mathematics has played an important part in the life of man. The ancients' desires to devise a system whereby they could determine the boundaries of fields eventually led to our present knowledge of geometrical laws and truths.

All the divisions of mathematics have grown in complexity and usefulness with man's continual scientific advancements.

It is one of the fundamental objectives of our mathematics department to teach its students to think out problems for themselves, to make their own decisions. In more realitsic terms mathematics offers to those students who aspire to be engineers and technicians a basic training with which they fulfill their ambitions. Geometry, algebra, trigonometry—tools with which the builders of tomorrow will construct the dreams of today.

STUDENT COUNCIL

● Today when a mighty struggle between fundamentally opposed forms of government rocks the world, it is a vital necessity that the future citizens of our nation have, not an idealistic, but a practical conception of that government which we hold dear.

The Student Council, as the representative governing body of Lakewood High School, has pledged its support to our national leaders in this crisis, and is carrying on in our school community the principles of democratic government, of, by, and for the people.

HONOR SOCIETY

● No clearer picture of an individual exists than the impression which he leaves behind upon completing his high school career. The marks which he has exhibited, the services rendered to the school, give clear indication of his character and abilities.

To that student who has shown himself an outstanding member of his school community, comes the privilege of wearing the gold torch and keystone, symbol not only of past successes, but of achievements yet to come.

FRIENDSHIP

● When the S. S. Friendship steamed out of its home port of Lakewood High School, it carried aboard the greatest number of passengers the club has ever seen. Letting their imaginations roam around the world, these young mariners experienced the joys of skiing in the Alps or bathing at Waikiki without the necessity of wearing long underwear or dodging bombs.

This voyage, designed to promote international friendship through a greater knowledge of the lives and customs of other lands, was the theme on which each Friendship Club was bahed throughout the year.

Friendship is a sister group to the Hi-Y, being affiliated with the Y. W. C. A. Their pot-luck suppers and annual Pa-Ma-Me banquets have become institutions among the girls of the high school.

Clad in smart purple and gold costumes, the Friendship girls operated a refreshment stand at the football games while others passed among the spectators with ice cream, hot dogs, and candy bars.

Seated—Jones.
Standing—Young, Harper, Bledsoe, Holman.

SENIOR HI-Y

● MAY WE PRESENT the Hi-Y, which occupies a unique place in the lives of the boys of our school. Springing from the senior group, the junior chapter was organized in 1940 and in 1941 a sophomore chapter came into being.

As part of their program of community service, the boys distribute Thanksgiving baskets, help the Community Fund, and sell refreshments at athletic events.

● Every year the senior chapter brings a well-known speaker to school for a series of conferences and assemblies dealing with moral, social, and personal problems.

Though the dances, picnics and hay rides give a pleasant social program to this club, it is primarily a religious organization striving to follow the Hi-Y Creed "to create, maintain, and extend the high standards of Christian character."

BARNSTORMERS

"Outward Bound"

● Throughout the ages man has turned to dramatic art as a means of self-expression and release from the cares of a drab world. Traditions and customs have grown up making the theater one of the most fascinating of our institutions. Imbued with these traditions are the Barnstormers, whose annual performances lead us to expect a future Barrymore or Hayes from its membership of grease paint-daubed star-struck actors.

Outstanding members of the club are elected to the National Thespian Honor Society in recognition of their dramatic ability.

LIBRARY

● It is unthinkable that a relatively few years ago a collection of 10,000 volumes, 65 magazine subscriptions, nine local and national newspapers, pamphlets and clipping files, such as is available to every Lakewoodite, would have been a luxury beyond dreams to even the well-to-do citizen.

Though the great quantity of labor that goes into the selecting and classifying of this collection is unknown to the average student, the cheerful and painstaking help Miss Findley renders all who approach her is greatly appreciated.

Platt, Yenne, Shogren, Rehmus, Vogel, Lawrence, Juergens.

ENGLISH COUNCIL

The English department is one of the largest in this school and consequently influences a great many organizations and individuals. To co-ordinate the department with the student body the English Council was formed.

Assuming responsibilities, the Council has become one of the most outstanding service groups of the school.

Its annual publication, "The English Councilor," a complete rule book of grammar, parliamentary procedure, and useful information dealing with the language, deserves national recognition.

SCRIBLERUS CLUB

● MAY WE PRESENT a group of students who, though of literary bent, far from typify the average conception of the word "writer." Instead of producing their manuscripts with the facility of an assembly line, these would-be authors create their essays, poems, plays, and short stories by concentrated, intensive work, presenting them to the club for analysis and criticism.

Never having been a large club, due to the high membership standards, Scriblerus has quietly shaped amateurish attempts into better quality compositions.

THESPIAN CLUB

● MAY WE PRESENT a group of young ladies who are making an intensive study of motion pictures and the legitimate theater in order that they may become intelligent critics of the dramatic art.

As part of their program the Thespians visit the Playhouse and other theaters as a group. Upon returning to school they hold discussion of the plays and actors which they have seen. Occasionally an outside speaker who has had dramatic experience attends a meeting and reveals the thrills and problems of backstage life.

Carlson, president; Van Horn, vice president; Mrs. Sutton; Bowditch, secretary; Jones, program chairman.

WHITMAN SOCIETY

● From the beginning of the written word, man has struggled to express his experiences and emotions so that others might receive enjoyment and inspiration from them. Of the many forms of literary expression which have lent themselves to his purpose, poetry alone possesses the ability to make felt, through rhythm and meter, the underlying beauty and feeling of the poet's idea.

The Whitman Society studies and analyzes the works of poets of all ages and nations in order to gain a knowledge of their styles and motives.

SPEAKERS CLUB

Schutte, secretary; Wieland, vice president; Klarreich, president; Geiger, treasurer.

● "Actions speak louder than words" might be a good motto for some organizations, but not for the Speakers Club.

This group, acting as a speakers' bureau, supplies from its membership toastmasters for our banquets, workers for the Community Fund, and other persons who can fill positions at meetings and assemblies.

The yearly honors awarded the representatives of Lakewood High in the Lake Erie League Speech Contests are proof that members of this club consider "free speech" an art in which to excel.

HI-FORUM

● A time of national crisis such as that existing today brings an awakening of public interest in the policies and current events which affect the citizens of this nation. Although such a crisis gives added impetus to the members of the Hi-Forum, their interest in world affairs needs no additional spur.

Our national morale and safety depend on the informed, intelligent attitude of our civilians. The Hi-Forum discussions of recent news and its effect on our lives play an important part in fostering that attitude.

Winter, Burrows, Kinsbury, Glasser, Brown

LATIN CLUB

● MAY WE PRESENT the members of the S. P. Q. R., who, clad in togas and tunics, try to recapture the life and culture of the ancient Romans. The club name, "Senatus Publicusque Romanus," meaning "The Senate and the Roman People," were the words inscribed on the battle standards of Caesar's legions.

Through the study of this now vanished people and their language the S. P. Q. R. is finding a greater appreciation of our civilization and a greater knowledge of the many languages for which Latin forms a background.

Row 1—C. Snyder, Bliss, Boyles, Winter, Parker, Strauch, Harper, Young.
Row 2—Newhauser, Foster, M. Snyder, Baum, Hanley, Grosclaude, Wells, Hornsby.

SPANISH CLUB

● In these days of increased interest in, and collaboration with, Latin America, and a greatly increased enrollment in our own Spanish class, it is fitting that an organization should be formed for further study of the language and customs of our "good neighbors" to the south.

Meetings, held in Spanish, feature travelers through those countries, movies making visual contact with their life and culture, and song sessions in which practice in pronunciation and usage combine with pleasant recreation.

Lamoureux, vice president; Lind, secretary; Buckley, treasurer; Stanley, president.

FRENCH CLUB

● The spirit of France and the French people is one that will never die. Though oppressed under the heel of the aggressor, the nation which produced Victor Hugo, Louis Pasteur, Emille Zola, and many other great and famous persons can never be destroyed by the force of tyranny.

"La Cercle Francais" has come to appreciate more and more not only the language, but the spirit, the literature, music, art, and other culture of the French people. Through acquaintance with these things they are finding greater interest in their regular language study.

Lamoureux, president; Lind, vice president; Dolison, treasurer; Nickols, secretary.

GERMAN CLUB

● The average German is not the swastika bearing, trucelent storm trooper with which we are acquainted. The pleasant Bavarian is another type of individual from the Nazi with whom we are fighting. It is this peaceful person who has given our country a great part of her people, has made contributions to science, music, literature, and art that no amount of intolerance and hatred can wipe out. It is this person the German Club studies, and the understanding of him and his way of life will be invaluable in forming an equitable peace in the future.

MATH CLUB

● The science of mathematics has come to hold a great amount of power over the lives of ordinary individuals. Though flying an airplane and plotting a freighter's course are not for the majority of us, income tax returns, simple accounting, business transactions, and many other common activities demand a knowledge of numbers and their relationships.

The members of the Math Club, already acquainted with and interested in the mechanics of the subject, are learning the use of mathematics in the everyday life of the community.

NEWTON SOCIETY

● Active mentally, physically, chemically—that is the description of the Newton Society. Pursuing their goal of factual knowledge of the universe, these young chemists and physicists discuss and demonstrate at their meetings such things as electrical phenomena, the aurora borealis, soapless soap, time and motion measurement, and miniature gasoline engines.

These members are acquiring, in the perseverant quest for learning, the intellectual skill needed to cope with the problems of mankind.

PHOTO CLUB

● The movies recording school life, sponsored by the Board of Education, have given the members of the Photo Club an added opportunity to study cinematography.

Since this project has undertaken to review every phase of social and academic life on the campus, the work of this organization has become better known.

Thus the school has come to recognize the value of pictures as a permanent record.

Graham, secretary; Swearingen, president; Carioti, vice president; Bower, treasurer.

PROJECTIONISTS

● The announcement of a basketball game—the wail of an air-raid siren—two messages of different significance, but they travel the same channel of communication to reach the 2,400 students of the school. The public address system has brought a new method of announcing to us; it has also caused the forming of a new service organization, a group of student technicians possessing the knowledge required to handle the network of microphones, push-buttons, and loud-speakers which comprise the system. Their help has been needed and freely given.

BIOLOGY

Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Huhn, Mr. Wernicke.

● The field blurs, then, as the focusing screw is turned farther, steadies in sharp, clear outline, revealing a small, wriggling cell beneath the microscope. We are viewing an amoeba, one of the lowest forms of animal life.

Starting from this lowly creature, the study of biology leads, through analysis and dissection of intermediate forms of animal life, to nature's supreme creation, man. Physiology is a subject devoted expressly to the human anatomy, how it works, and why it misbehaves.

The flower, regarded as only a laboratory subject for dissection in first-year biology, becomes an object of beauty and care as horticulture students wield their trowels in the greenhouse and gardens behind the men's building. There the theories of Burbank are retested and many have been the oddities resulting from experimental grafting.

The Biology Department is studying living things, organisms that grow, move, and die in varying patterns which make them especially interesting subjects for observation and study.

HOME ECONOMICS

● The "mothers of the future generation" may seem, at first glance, frivolous young things whose interests do not extend beyond the fashions, hair styles, and social activities which take much of their time.

Such, however, is not the case, as a visit to the Home Economics Department reveals these socialites busily designing their own clothes, pulling luscious dainties from the oven, bathing babies loaned for the occasion, and knitting articles of wearing apparel.

The courses offered by the department are designed to help the girls to become better home makers and to enjoy everyday living. In the clothing classes girls man the batteries of sewing machines, turning out attractive frocks of a professional quality. Personal regimen, dealing with problems such as dating, is one of the most popular courses. How to get the most for your money when doing the household shopping is part of better buying. Cooking, accepted as a sure way to a man's heart, is a strongly favored branch of the foods classes. Courses in home management and handicrafts are also offered.

They train to be scientific homemakers.

MUSIC

● The strains of Beethoven, Bach, Brams, and other great masters of music find an appreciative audience in the many students studying music appreciation. An acquaintance with the great composers and their works form an unbreakable tie of interest which will furnish them a constant source of interest in the future.

For those desiring to follow music as a career harmony classes teach the technicalities and mechanics of writing and arranging orchestral, choral, and other forms of written music.

Orchestra

● A cultural necessity, this organization, the ultimate in Lakewood's instrumental department, renders great fame and pleasure to the school by playing at our programs, winning contests, and by presenting an annual spring concert.

Girls Glee Club

● Following the same training routine as their brothers in the Boys Glee Club, these girls find an equal pleasure in a sweeter, less boisterous repertoire. With the other vocal groups they exhibit their skill at the annual choir concert.

● In no other high school in the state is the vocal department so large as that of Lakewood High School. Receiving all of its singers from lower musical organizations the A Cappella Choir is the ultimate of the ambition of the many who select vocal music as an elective.

The A Cappella Choir has become well known for both the quality and the variety of its vocal music. Under the direction of Mr. T. R. Evans concerts are given all over the city. Assemblies and the annual spring concert have also helped to establish the choir's reputation.

The junior A Cappella Choir, like the senior choir, is directed by Mr. Evans. At present there are about 90 members who meet every day the third period to exercise their musical abilities. To become a member of the choir one must show an interest in music as well as possess some vocal talent.

The choir offers many familiar church songs and also several old favorites presented in a new fashion at its frequent concerts. Mr. Evans and his choirs have become popular entertainers throughout the community . . . proof of their excellent work.

Six, Weir, Green, Dobbins, Cheatham.

● "Study nature not books," said scientist Louis Agassiz, and from his motto comes the aim and the name of the Agassiz Club. To study nature in its natural setting they frequently take trips through Rocky River Valley, and visit zoos and aviaries. In the laboratory they dissect rabbits, study minute life under the microscope, see movies, and talk on subjects familiar to them, such as taxidermy, wild life, hawks, and homing pigeons. Through systematic investigation they are learning more about the world in which we live.

RADIO CLUB

●W8GMQ, located in Room 325 in the Main Building, is the center of activity for Lakewood High's "hams." These fellows, operating their own radio system, talk to students in other schools where there are transmitting sets.

Since December 7, 1941, all amateur radio operators have been ordered off the air by the government in the interest of national defense. However, these boys are still active within the school itself. They are building their own receivers and other equipment in an effort to better qualify themselves for becoming Navy and Army operators, aircraft maintenance men, or sound technicians.

● Hamlyn Club might well becalled a builder of better citizens; for its members are learning the art of better home management. To become efficient in sewing, cooking, and housekeeping is their worthy goal.

One of their early activities this year was an all-club picnic in Clague Park. In addition to such social occasions, the members are active at Christmas time in helping needy families.

In studying methods by which they can become more intelligent home operators, these girls are making a definite contribution to their future happiness.

HI-ART GUILD

● Hi-Art Guild offers to all its members a chance to better understand and appreciate the world's fine arts.

By readily assuming the art work of school campaigns and activities, members of the Guild have made a definite contribution to the school.

The talents of the individual members, however, are not neglected. Through experimentation and constructive criticism, each aspiring artist finds an opportunity to improve his own interests.

SWIMMING TEAM

● Coach Russell Linden and the swimming team brought new glory to Lakewood High in 1942.

The season began on December 12 with the annual city meet at the Cleveland Club. Lakewood ranked third of the five participants. In another city-wide meet at Fenn pool Lakewood outswam Shaw, Shaker Heights, and Cleveland Heights to gain top honors.

Besides chalking up a majority of victories in its regular schedule, the team took first place in Lake Erie League competition. This was their third victory in the L. E. L. since the cup was offered, making the team the permanent possessor of the trophy.

In the Northeastern Ohio relays the mermen lost to Canton McKinley, but came through with a third place standing.

Led by Bob Shakespeare's constant wins in the 50-yard, 100-yard, and 220-yard dashes, the team went to Columbus to climax its season by taking a third place in the state competition.

The fact that a good many of the squad this year are juniors would indicate a successful season for 1943.

Coach Ness.

● This year the Purple and Gold began their first undefeated season by tying a small Berea team. The squad showed promise with tremendous offensive drives, but the pass defense was rather weak.

However, even from the bleachers the rapid improvement and development of the boys was evident. The record rose like an inclined plane from the first disappointing game to the climaxing surprise victory over Collinwood.

The tie games suffered by the Rangers were not so disgraceful as they might seem. The tying teams were all motivated to play better than average ball. Lorain was seeking revenge for last year's defeat; Shaw, to maintain a good record; and Berea, to prove to the large schools that she had a great team.

The coming season of 1942 finds only one first-team man returning to the fold. It is up to Duncan, Mathie, Greenleaf, Henry, Cole, Gdovin, Kevesdy, and Trace to maintain the past record.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

● This past record of one defeat in two years of play is an enviable one and is due to the efforts of Coach Ness and the rugged determination of the boys.

Dick Jenkins, hard-driving fullback, captained the squad. Brilliant broken field runner was Cliff Lewis, wingback. Hugh Jones, wiry field general, called many a winning play. Len Benbow, team dark horse, thrilled the stands with his 82-yard run. Bob Suttle and Art Schlenker played with the Press All-Stars in Florida. Liffiton, Oakley, and Kresge held the line against many a stormy offensive. Schaufele, Bosworth, Drouillard, and Fletcher substituted valiantly in key positions.

Among the above players there were few outstanding stars. But through drive and determination, and above all, team spirit and co-operation, they produced another Lake Erie League co-championship.

● "A good offensive team with a fairly good passing attack," is the description Coach Russell Linden gives of his reserve eleven. And good it must have been. For proof, just look at their record of seven wins with only one loss, or at the 126 points piled up to their opponents' 33.

The team was one of the smallest squads Coach Linden has ever handled and consequently did not depend on any one individual star, but upon team work and co-operation to give it its winning qualities. If records mean anything, this year's reserve team will greatly strengthen next year's varsity eleven.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

●Five lettermen from the outstanding 1940-41 team were on hand to greet Coach Ross at the start of the season. Cliff Lewis, right forward, captain, and all-scholastic; Len Benbow, left forward, second team all-tournament; Bill Bonness, 6 feet 3 inch center; Hugh Jones, left forward; and Dick Jenkins, guard.

Bill Bonness started the ball rolling when he averaged 10 points in three games. Bonness and Lewis, up to graduation, led the team in scoring with a total of 159 markers.

The Purple was expected to be weakened by the loss of Lewis, Bonness, and Jones through graduation. However, three first-year men—Bob Brown, Bill Lestock, and Ed Hrivnak—took over so well the loss was hardly noticed.

Another find, Bob Oakley, got his big chance when Lloyd Duff, first string guard, broke his wrist in the Elyria game. Bob did such a good job that he started the rest of the games.

● Ed Hrivnak was acclaimed hero when he dropped in 23 points in the Lorain game to cinch the league title for the second straight year. Ed, a senior and first-year man, alternated with Harry Parris at the pivot post. Dick Jenkins continued his brilliant back court game combined with accurate shooting to keep the Rangers in "pay dirt."

Len Benbow was the star of the team. He scored 170 points for the year and was leading tournament scorer with 54 points in four games. Len was named captain at mid-year by Coach Jerry Ross.

Junior Varsity Basketball

●Fifteen wins and seven losses was the fine record the varsity made this year. They won the Lake Erie title for the second straight year and proved they were the best team in Northeastern Ohio when they won the district tournament.

●Six wins and eight setbacks marked the season record for the Junior Varsity. They scored 402 points to their opponents' 385.

Paul Rundell, six-foot center, was the leading scorer with a total of 83 points to his credit. John Paulus was second with 73, and Bill Humphrey third with 59.

Other boys who look like they will have a bright future are Chuck Williams, 6 foot 7 inch center. Jim Bodenhoff, Craig Fenton, Bill Bristow, and Roger Storey. Don Burson, although only a sophomore, looks like very promising varsity material.

BASEBALL

●Coach Jerry Ross' baseball proteges closed a successful season when they won the Metropolitan Division title. This was the last year that Coach Ross was to act as baseball coach. He was replaced by Coach Ness.

The team turned in their best performance of the season in the Parma game, when Harry Figgie pitched no-hit baseball and the other players piled up 10 runs for a score of 10-1.

Members of the team were: Jack Murray, Ken Eichwald, Cliff Lewis, Len Benbow, George Sobeck, Bill Smetz, Len Rusnak, John Lestock, Bill Lestock, Bill Bonness, Harry Figgie, John Komperda, Emil Mularz, and Dick Jenkins.

John Komperda was the heavy hitter with a .440 average. Jack Murray also pitched. In the River game he held them to only three runs as Lakewood garnered nine.

George Sobeck is the only returning letterman from last year's team that is out this year. The other two, Dick Jenkins and Len Benbow, did not come out this year.

TRACK

● Coach George D. Corneal has led Lakewood High to many a Lake Erie League championship, and opportunities are still beckoning. Last season's kings, the thinclads, this year are to be led by Lloyd Duff, hurdler and pole vaulter, and Norv Mathie, sprint man, they being co-captains. Kin Shogren is the high jumper, with Foster Kiser being another good pole vaulter. Ed Reilly is a very able broad jumper and sprint man. John Tkacik, Dick Crook and Bill Humphrey are excellent dash men. Bill Bartlett is the miler of prominent ability. A few of the above mentioned can also be added to the names of Bert Parra, Bill Vandervort, Leo Krist and Dick Bell as the center of the outstanding relay teams.

CROSS-COUNTRY

● Coach Watters' cross-country team scored a fine record again this year at the district and state meets. After practising from the opening of school last fall until the end of October, when the meets were held, the team was in good condition and consequently placed first in the district meet at Ridgewood Golf Course and third at the state meet at Delaware, Ohio. Teams from schools located in all parts of northeastern Ohio took part in the Ridgewood meet. The Lakewood men made a great showing with Bill Bartlett coming in 1st, Al Ondrus 2nd, Roy Knipper 4th, Bob Doran 5th and Lou Humphrey 20th, which gave Lakewood the lowest score, thereby making them the winners. In the state competition Bartlett finished 9th, Knipper 12th, Doran 13th, Ondrus 21st and Humphrey 24th.

WRESTLING

● The "grunt-and-groan" society lost all of their lettermen in mid-year, leaving a green but willing team to carry on. Under the guidance of Coach Ness, the wrestling squad was composed of a group of inexperienced sophomore and junior boys who are looking to the future for their triumphs. Newly outfitted in robes and bats, the team was host to the other West Side schools in the West Side meet. Next year only three men even partially-experienced will return.

FENCING

● The sport of fencing demands all the faculties of the physical and mental powers that one possesses. The clash of steel on steel, the feint, the dodge, and the thrust constitute parts of this activity. This is one of the school's newest sports, although one of the oldest known in existence. Under the guidance of Mr. John Grey, fencing has been warmly received by interested students, and its success has been better than was expected. Girls, too, are eligible to join the fencing club.

GIRLS PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Miss Hiserodt, Miss Kopp, Miss Whitlock.

● In the physical education classes, Lakewood High girls practice games and exercises that contribute toward a sense of rhythm, poise and gracefulness of stature. During the five semesters of required physical education, students become exceedingly adept in basket ball, volley ball, baseball, badminton and tennis. Miss Lucile Hiserodt is head of the department.

TANKATEERS CLUB

● Although there is nothing "fishy" about the Tankateers, the amount of time they spend in the water would certainly suggest a relationship to mermaids. Excellent swimmers all, they indulge in aqua-gymnastics which bring sounds of admiration from even the hard-boiled boys swimming team.

Stroking to music while forming human patterns in the water, one of the newest additions to the art, the Tankateers rival professional aqua-belles.

Although water polo, racing, and human designs form a great part of their program, life-saving and rescue courses give them the practical knowledge that is a part of the expert swimmer. These girls are definitely not the type of bathing beauties who do their bathing on the beach.

"L" CLUB

● Athletic prowess is a trait that we admire to an extent not out of proportion to the place it deserves. A healthy, muscular body is now recognized as a necessity to every individual, and the type of physical exercise and training in sportsmanship provided the members of Lakewood's teams forms young men capable of meeting the problems that will face them in the future.

To qualify as an "L" man it is necessary to be a member of a major team or a champion of a minor team. Realizing, however, that not all fellows have the ability to be outsanding athletes, provisions have been made to present letters to boys who have shown their determination and school spirit by coming out for a sport year after year although they might not have been star players.

PUBLIC ADDRESS

● The purpose of the public address boys is to operate the P. A. system to its fullest capacity. This includes setting up microphones for assemblies, broadcasting recordings for social affairs, and relaying programs to any class that might desire to hear a particular speech or event.

One of the club's biggest jobs this year was the moving of the P. A. system from Mr. Vredevoe's office to Room 114. This feat, in which almost five hundred wires had to be cut and connected again in Room 114, was accomplished over one week-end by Mr. Ball, chief electrician, and several of the club members, including Bill Downer, Bob Borofka, and Bill Ehler.

The organization is sponsored by Mr. Gormsen, and in order to become a member, one must show the club that he has a definite interest in sound work. The boys must be able to keep the system in good running condition and must be on hand whenever an operator is needed.

● The technical department, headed by Mr. McClosky, has assumed more and more prominence in the last few years, and especially so since the war was begun. Students who have a reasonable amount of skill in drafting, foundry work, or machine shop find it no task at all to secure employment in war plants after graduation. Individual initiative is encouraged in creating molds in the foundry and in designing in drafting classes.

Lakewood High offers its students training in cabinet making, printing, pattern making, electrical construction, auto mechanics, and in foundry and machine shop work. In the technical department, as in no other department of the school, one finds actual experience and training being taught instead of theoretical knowledge. Besides offering this most valuable type of training, the industrial arts classes are constantly making a definite contribution to the school. Advance students take part in making the chemistry sheets, grade cards, permits, and other printed material used by the rest of the school. Much of the stage props and equipment, book cases, tables, and frames are made here.

Fellows in these courses really learn by doing. In the auto mechanics class, cars are washed and minor repairs are made. In machine shop each student works alone, relying on his own abaility, as he must in later industrial work. Lakewood High's technical department is well-equipped and instructed, and is of great practical value to the pupils and to the school.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

● "An age of commerce" is a term which might be applied to the present century. Large corporations, small businesses work side by side, wholesaling, retailing, handling the materials of a mighty nation.

For each of these billions of industries and businesses there are more billions of persons who keep the wheels turning. Stenographers, typists, bookkeepers, accountants, office machine operators coordinate and organize the operations of our national business.

In our commercial courses specific training is offered to the students which will enable them to take their place in the business world upon graduation, if they so desire.

Three types of courses are offered. The stenographic course specializes in secretarial work. The accounting course presents bookkeeping and the handling of records. The general clerical training offers beside general business training, instruction in the use of office machines.

HI-SALES CLUB

● To gain actual experience in the techniques of salesmanship is the goal of Hi-Salesmen. In order to fulfill their earnest desire to become better sellers, members of the organization do much to stimulate school spirit.

They are ready and willing to practice their trade for any school event and are responsible for selling many of the tickets to athletic games and school plays. These salesmen get more practical experience in meeting the community's business men when they sell space for high school programs and for the high school publications.

The club's membership is made up of students from the salesmanship classes of Mr. Lewis. The sales records of the various students are charted on a graph in the classroom, and competition is stressed as a means of encouragement for all of Mr. Lewis' budding supersalesmen. The Hi-Salesmen have been a valuable aid to the school in its many undertakings.

HI-COMMERCIAL CLUB

● "To help the student in choosing his life's vocation" is one of the aims of the Hi-Commercial Club.

By listening to the advice of business men, by visiting various concerns, and by discussing vocational problems Hi-Commercial tries to accomplish its aims.

Are we equipped to deal with mercenary influences? Can we shoulder our responsibilities in the future? How does school life affect our vocational problems? Serious questions these, but Hi-Commercial tries to answer them.

AUTO CLUB

Jackson, Mr. Cook, Burton, Peters, Welfare, Wilde.

● To teach safe and efficient automobile operation—this is the purpose of the Auto Club. Through special courses and driving classes using the dual-controlled training car, the purpose is being achieved.

A third duty faces the club today. Tires, new automobiles, gasoline, many other parts and accessories are becoming scarce. Correct driving will conserve many of the commodities which are unobtainable. The club realizes this and is putting special emphasis on methods of increasing the longevity of the family car.

THE CINEMA

●In the fall of every year a newly assembled staff may be observed gathering its thoughts and beginning work on a new year-book. Last September was no exception. The 1942 staff has endeavored to give the students a book of which they can be proud and which they can compare favorably with other school publications.

The purpose of any year-book is to create a permanent record to which pupils may turn in the future to recall past experiences. The Cinema has made for itself an excellent reputation through the country, many times having been the pace-setter in ideas for books of its type.

Real work began in October when the subscription campaign was launched. Margaret Strauch and her helpers built up a sales of over two-thirds of the school during the 13-week campaign. Work was not finished until the ad section was completed in May.

The Lakewood High Times

● The American newspaper has become an institution. The tradition of free press and objective journalism have made our papers the finest in the world. Following this tradition, the Lakewood High Times has become an institution in the high school. It is completely a student publication containing all the weekly happenings of the school.

In charge of the paper is the editor, who has direct supervision over pages one and three. Assisting him is the associate editor and three assistant editors.

JANUARY GRADUATES

● The two hundred members of this senior class are already on their way toward realizing their plans for the future. Since February some have been working—saving to begin college this summer or next fall, others are working during the day and attending night school, and a few are going to business or special training institutions. Led by their president, Bill Bosworth, the class of January, 1942, goes forward to achieve its aims.

Chilton, vice president; Yenne, secretary; Hughes, treasurer; Bosworth, president.

JUNE GRADUATES

● After three years at Lakewood High School, this group of over five hundred young men and women is just beginning its real work. Many plan to enter college in the fall, and many others have already left Lakewood in order to start their courses this summer in accordance with the government suggested policy of shorter training periods.

Those who do not continue their studies are, nevertheless, well prepared to go out into the world because they have had an opportunity at Lakewood High to well equip themselves for work along many lines.

Liffiton, treasurer; Jones, secretary; Jenkins, president;
Young, vice president.
